Winemaking details

As the name "Terra Rossa" tells you this wine originates from the red centrepiece of the Weilberg vineyard. Besides the "WEILBERG Riesling GG" the "Terra Rossa Riesling" is the second masterpiece of Weingut Pfeffingen from this unique vineyard. For this wine a preselection from younger vines and special parts of the vineyard was used. All grapes were selected by hand. Winemaker Jan Eymael prefers an aromaprotecting, reductive vinification and a long sur-lie aging.

About the Winery

As the Eymael family, we run the Pfeffingen winery near Bad Dürkheim in the Pfalz region with a lot of heart and passion. Producing characterful, individual wines from 17 hectares of the best vineyards is what drives us. Wines where you can taste where they were grown. Wines that promise drinking pleasure and joy. Our love and dedication to wine, our unconditional desire for quality distinguish us. The numerous national and international top ratings confirm our actions.

Vintage Notes

Vintage 2021: light styled and with a lot of aroma - beautiful september saves quality and quantity, very good acidity structure, outstanding GG qualities

Tasting Notes

The Terra Rossa Riesling shows aromas of wild herbs and ripe pineapple and reminds of spice flavours. A full and round body turns into a smooth and elegant finish.

Vineyard Notes

The heart of the Weilberg, which is called in common parlance „Terra Rossa“, is a unique vineyard. The soil consists of a loamy clay with some limestones in it. The high content of haematit (Fe2O3) brings out a type of soil which is called „terra rossa“ (red earth).

Pairing Notes

White meat, Chicken, Fish & Seafood, Asian Cuisine
