Why „Bruno“?	Bruno of Cologne was the founder of the Carthusian order. On the facade of the former monastery which was founded in 1335, the name Bruno is written in metal letters and accompanies us in our daily challenges: steep vineyards, slate soil and manual work.
Terroir:	The grapes are grown in steep vineyards in the Mosel and Ruwer valleys with perfect exposition and late soil.
Vinifizierung:	Harvested early October, all grapes were picked by hand and gently pressed. In the cellar it is done as little intervention as possible. But with one major investment: time. Patience always pays off in wine and winemaking. No fining, all natural sedimentation, only sulfur added just before bottling.
Beschreibung:	Riesling, slate, Mosel – exactly this way and in this order, the nose gives an early idea of what will come next on the palate. Very classic with cool, light citrus fruit and lots of spicy slate aromas, delicate but with a sensational drinking flow. A fun wine that is both, enjoyable on its own or with food.
