2021 Rosé dry

"An elegant wine that puts you in a good mood."

Rosé is fun to drink! Its charming light pink color and delicate, fruity-fresh taste of strawberries and raspberries put you in a good mood.

Rosé wines are wines made from red grapes, but in terms of type, they tend to be attributed to white wines. This is due to the fermentation process, where the red grapes are treated like white wine, which means that the berries are only briefly on the mash during fermentation, and the attractive rosé color is created.

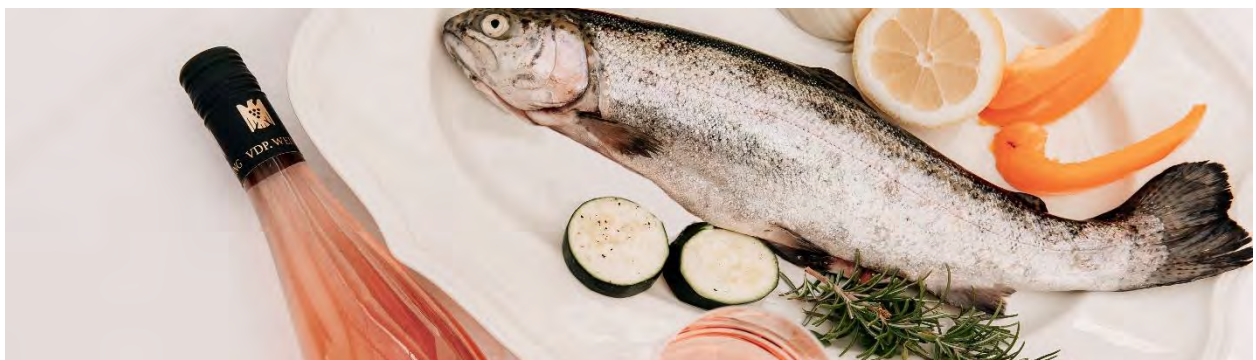

For our Rosé we use classic red wine varieties. They give the rosé a fruity, fresh note.

The wines in our Riesling bottles are fermented colder than our classics in the Bocksbeutel. This way, the carbonic acid is retained, and the wine is sparkling and retains a pleasant freshness.
